

NOW AVAILABLE

National Outlook

Stay informed about the latest trends in the housing market by subscribing to Zonda's economic research subscription. Receive a holistic perspective of the housing market backed by trusted experts and Zonda's proprietary data.

- Foresee changes in the housing market
- Strategize to adapt to shifting trends
- Apply knowledge to align with market dynamics

Download an exclusive sneak peek of the latest housing and economic report.

Your key to Unlocking Economic and Housing Insights

Subscribers receive the National Outlook report, as well as a variety of content pieces from our team that are insightful and proactive and leave you with an in-depth understanding of the housing market.

National Outlook Report

A concise, yet detailed report highlighting timely insights and custom research that provides next level analysis on trends to make strategic business decisions.

Custom Research

Get exclusive access to unique research articles that offer granular and impactful insights with expanded analysis focused on key factors that impact the housing market.

Zonda Market Rankings

A seasonally adjusted proprietary market rankings map that accounts for both sales pace and volume, and is taken as a percentage relative to a market average.

Top Metro Ratings

A comprehensive dataset of the top 100 metro markets ranked by key performance metrics such as affordability, pricing, population, and more.

Exclusive Webinars

Get access to Ali Wolf and Tim Sullivan as they share the latest data, trends, and critical issues affecting the housing industry nationwide live on this exclusive webinar.

Detailed Resources

Access a wealth of essential information vital to the housing industry, including definitions of ADUs, census inclusions, and distinctions between property types.

Building the future of housing™