Your to-do checklist after buying your home

Secure your home.

The first thing you should do when you're getting ready to move in is change the locks, garage codes, and access to any other entry points.

Connect the utilities.

Before you even move in, be sure to connect all of your must-have utilities, like water, gas, and electricity.

Check smoke and carbon monoxide detectors.

To help ensure you and your family are safe in your new home, make sure all smoke and carbon monoxide detectors are in good working condition.

Find the circuit box, emergency shutoffs, and appliance manuals.

Even if your new home isn't brand-new construction, it's new to you! So it's vital to understand how things work.

Use your inspection report as a to-do list for upkeep.

Review any issues that were flagged on the home inspection report but are not yet fixed. Make a list of things to repair, update, or maintain for the future, ranking them from most to least urgent.

Create a regular maintenance schedule.

Be thoughtful about the things that need to be done over time. This may include replacing air filters, cleaning the gutters, pressure washing the exterior, and more.
