Frequently Asked Questions

What size containers does UNITS have available to rent?

- UNITS Franchise locations have 16-foot weather resistant steel containers and many of our franchises also have 12-foot containers available for all of your storage solution needs

What is the cost to rent the containers?

- Prices will vary by location but as a UNITS National Account member you will get the lowest Preferred National Account Commercial Rates available
- UNITS also offers competitively priced insurance options for contents stored inside our containers

Do I have to deal with a call center when I need a UNITS container?

- Absolutely not, simply go to your organization's online mobile-friendly landing page, fill out the required information, click submit, and our local franchise will contact you to complete your rental request

Can I order multiple containers at once?

- Yes, you can order as many containers as you need

How much can a 16-foot UNITS container hold?

- Our containers can hold up to 8,000 pounds, in comparison to our competitors 5,600 pounds, which equates to roughly 3-4 rooms of a home if packed properly and depending on the size of the items being placed inside the container

Can the UNITS storage containers be delivered to multiple locations throughout the rental?

- We can deliver our containers to as many locations you need throughout the rental process... you tell us where and when and we will get you what you need
- Additional charges for multiple moves may apply

Does the UNITS container need much clearance space to be delivered?

- UNITS delivery system allows us to place containers where no competitor can.... including inside parking garages
- We can also place multiple containers within inches of each other
- Our State-of-the-art Delivery System keeps your container level during loading and unloading, reducing the risk of damage to contents

Does UNITS offer on-site storage?

- Our UNITS franchise locations offer secure climate-controlled storage facilities to store the container
