Our primary focus is to bring your dreams
to life!

We are a diverse team of professionals coming from different academic backgrounds, but share a common passion for Nature-Inspired Design and ethical practice.

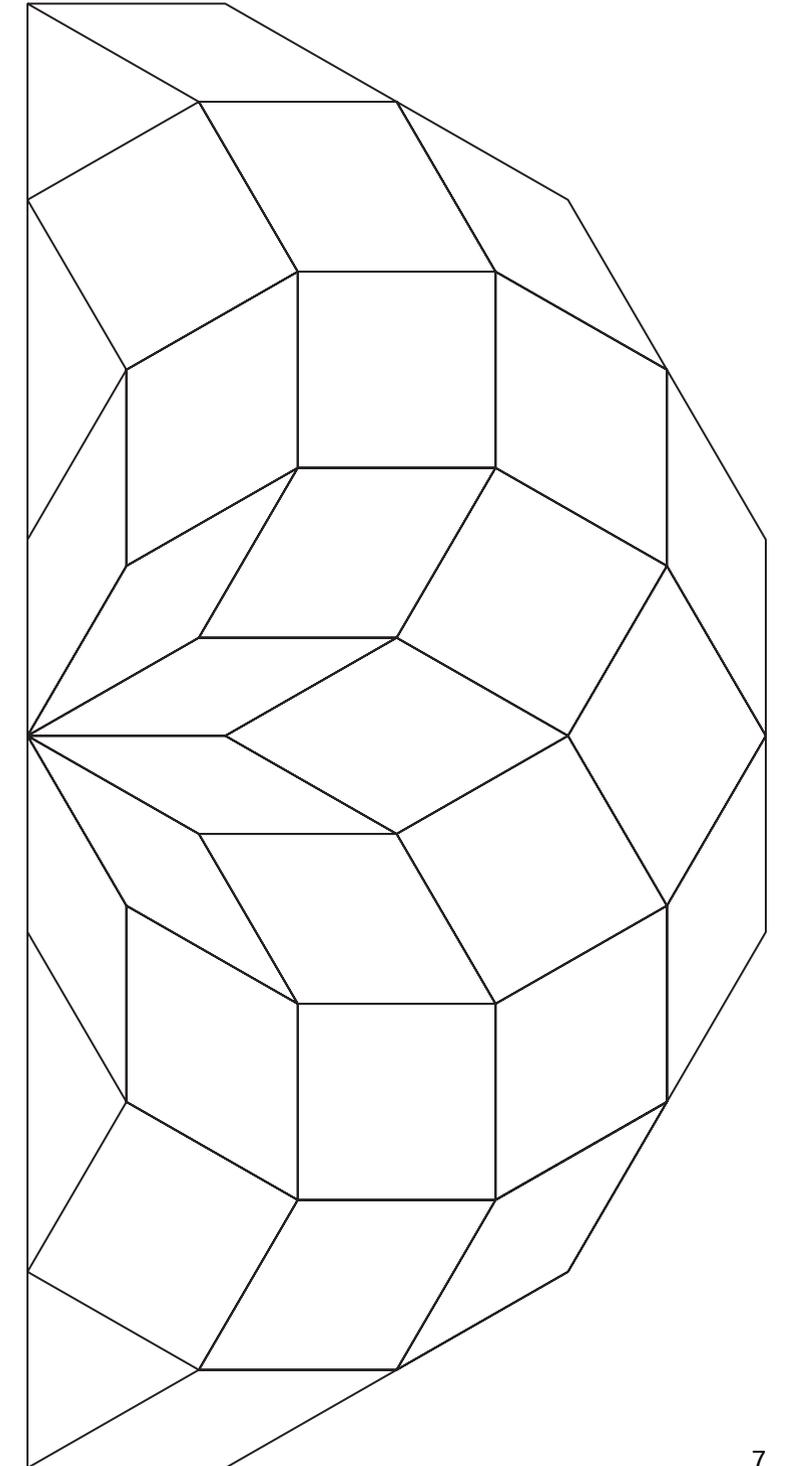

With a holistic approach to the design process, working alongside you, we are able to craft unique spaces and experiences that spark inspiration and lift-up the soul.

Collaboration is at the heart of what we do, and we are always open to exciting new opportunities. Our ambition is to work with our clients to create sustainable designs that will not only help our planet, but also trigger instant curiosity and awe. This pushes us to constantly innovate using new processes, technologies and materials.

The high percentage of prefabricated elements in our buildings is allowing us optimized quality control and faster build out.

EVOZOME DESIGN is a team of passionate creators devoted to transcending the conventional boundaries of design.

Our journey is driven by a deep understanding that true design goes beyond the visual and functional—it is an immersive experience that touches the very core of human existence. Our studio embraces a holistic approach to design. We believe that a space is not just a structure but a dynamic vessel with the potential to shape the way we think, feel, and live.

Our commitment to this philosophy stems from the profound realization that design, at its essence, is an art form that influences the psychological, mental, and spiritual well-being of its inhabitants.

What sets us apart is our unwavering passion for creating spaces that resonate with the soul, where every angle, curve, and nuance contributes to a harmonious and enriching environment. Our designs are not mere structures; they are thoughtful expressions of our dedication to crafting experiences that elevate the human spirit.

As architects, we recognize that the impact of design extends far beyond aesthetics and functionality.

Concept & Planning

We aim to create spaces that tangibly impact people's lives. In a world marked by disconnection and chaos, we are driven by the mission to enhance individuals' mental, physical, and emotional well-being, allowing them to rediscover and embrace their true selves.

In this age of unprecedented challenges, our intention is clear—to build not just houses but homes. Homes that serve as sanctuaries, fostering a sense of belonging and authenticity. Through thoughtful design, we aspire to contribute to a world where people feel more connected, grounded, and aligned with their inner essence.

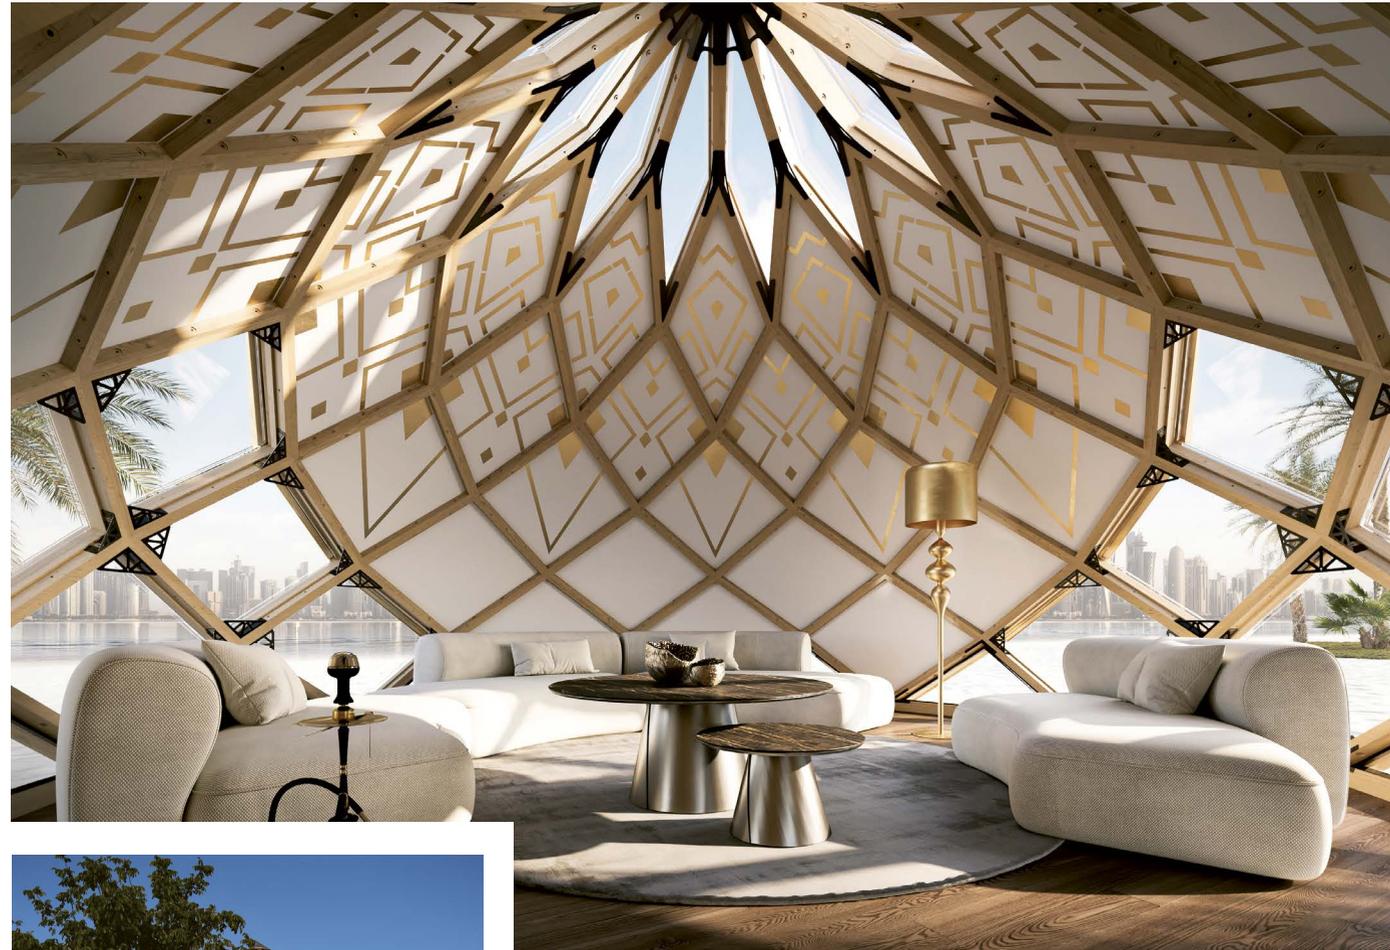

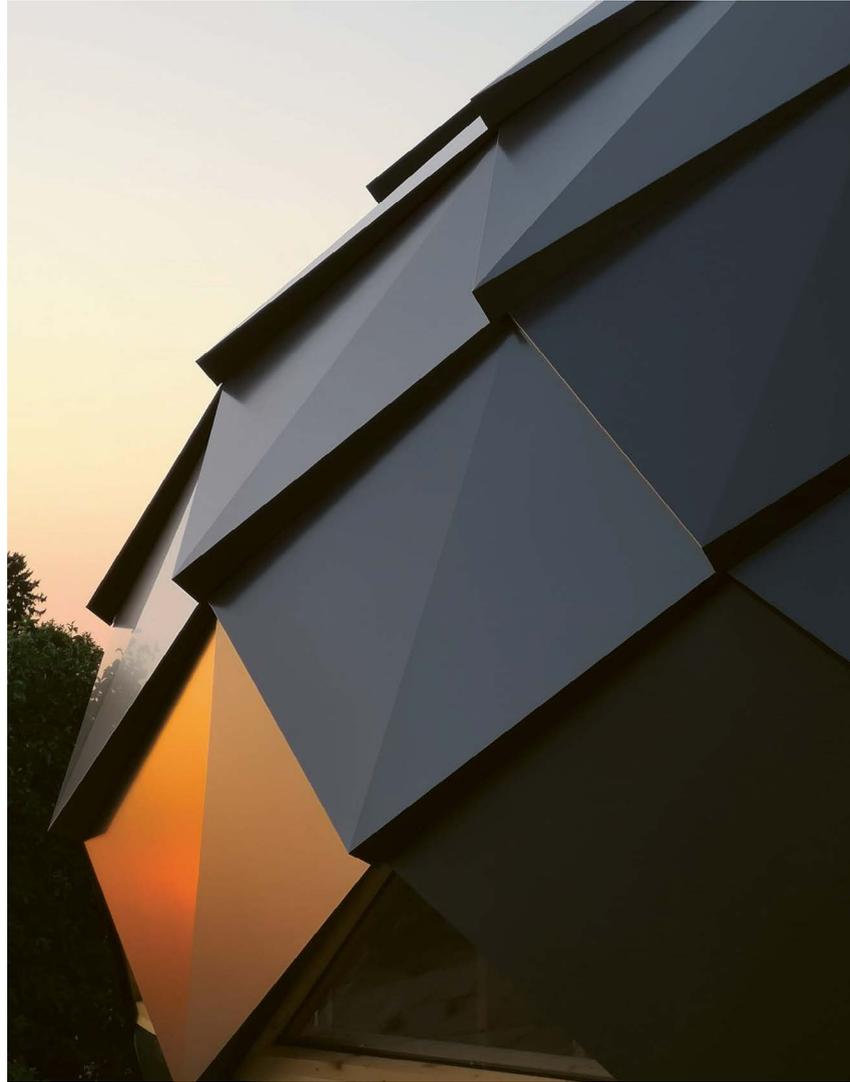

Urban landscape

We are very mindful while building and planning, supporting our clients in thinking in the long-term and across multiple scales and systems. We are aware of climate change, aging infrastructure, and rapid urbanization and with that in mind we approach every project as an opportunity to use nature-based solutions such as biophilia, biomimicry and biodiversity enhancement to design sustainable, smarter and safer environments.

Architecture

We've built and developed more than 25 Zome houses across Europe, and now we are spreading our work all over the world. Pioneering transformative living spaces inspired by sacred geometry.

Our portfolio showcases numerous successfully realized Zome houses, each a testament to our commitment to redefining living environments.

Holistic design

Our Holistic Interior Design is an individualized experience. We meticulously analyze clients and spaces, applying holistic principles and colour therapy. Beyond aesthetics, we create interiors that enhance mental, physical, and emotional well-being. Our approach is about crafting personalized sanctuaries—spaces that resonate uniquely with each client, promoting a harmonious and impactful living experience.
