Nichiha USA Introduces Complete Trim Suite for Architectural Wall Panels
New one- and two-piece trim solutions deliver a fully integrated wall system with cleaner detailing, faster installs, and seamless visual continuity

ORLANDO, FL – Nichiha USA has introduced its Complete Trim Suite, a comprehensive set of one- and two-piece metal trim solutions designed to give architects, builders, and installers everything they need to finish Architectural Wall Panel (AWP) projects with precision and confidence. The expanded trim offering reinforces Nichiha’s commitment to delivering fully engineered wall systems—not just panels, but complete, coordinated solutions.

Developed to work seamlessly together or individually, the Complete Trim Suite provides designers and installers with one- and two-piece trim options while maintaining consistent profiles, clean lines, and a unified appearance. One-piece trim components have been refined to align visually with Nichiha’s two-piece trim system, ensuring smooth transitions where both solutions are used on the same wall.

“Our goal with the Complete Trim Suite was to remove friction at the finish line,” said Anthony Pucci, Director of Channel Sales for Nichiha USA. “By offering coordinated one- and two-piece trim options that work together visually and functionally, we’re giving project teams a complete wall solution that installs more efficiently and looks intentional from every angle.”

KEY FEATURES OF THE NICHHA COMPLETE TRIM SUITE:

- Complete wall solution – One- and two-piece trim options designed to work together as a unified system for Architectural Wall Panels.
- Refined one-piece profiles – Updated J-mold and H-mold profiles align visually with two-piece trim for seamless mixing on the same wall.
- Sealant-free detailing – Two-piece trim eliminates caulking at vertical control joints for cleaner lines and reduced long-term maintenance.
- Faster, more forgiving installs – Snap-fit two-piece trim and staged installation options simplify detailing and reduce labor demands.
- Single-source convenience – Color-matched trim, panels, and accessories designed and supplied by Nichiha for consistent results.
