The Team

Jane Kennelly | Owner

With over 30 years of experience as an Architectural Stone Consultant, Designer and Business Owner, Jane is recognized throughout the architectural stone industry as a passionate leader, lover of stone and a tireless and dedicated advocate for both clients and the stone masons and artisans.

Michael Youngblood | Illustrator

Michael has been an expert Illustrator & Sales Associate with DeSantana Stone for over a decade. He's a trained artist, with a degree in Fine Art from the University of North Carolina - Asheville. Michael brings his trained eye and attention to detail in helping express the vision of clients through natural stone. He's DeSantana's magician.

Seay Stephens | Technical Design Leader

Seay Stephens is DeSantana's CAD Leader and on-site Logistics Supervisor. For more than a decade, Seay has contributed his knowledge in the areas of construction, codes and design and he has been an invaluable component in DeSantana's success. Seay manages and oversees take-offs, estimating and on-site evaluations of all of DeSantana's largest and most complicated projects and is a trusted ally in every project.

Frank Genello | Restoration & Masonry Expert

Frank is a Master Craftsman, teacher and above all else, a great friend and asset to the DeSantana Team. Frank consults and leads our most complicated restoration projects and he is easily one of the most knowledgeable people in this country in the fields of restoration and masonry.

Among his most notable projects are the stone restoration of the historic Charleston County Courthouse in Charleston, South Carolina and the Lyndhurst Mansion in Tarrytown, New York.

Case Study

Family Cemetery / Columbarium

From the moment owner Jane Kennelly met with this homeowner, the project felt like both a creative challenge and must-do residential project of great magnitude.

Trips to Mexico to meet with stone experts and our team of artisans there, drafting and planning with our in-house team and masons here in the states, have made this project incredibly satisfying and successful.

An opportunity with challenges...
