Barrette Outdoor Living® Introduces Railing Kits for Decorative Screen Panel Infills

CLEVELAND, OH (December 29, 2021) — Barrette Outdoor Living, Inc., a leading provider of outdoor living products, is excited to announce the addition of kits that allow for the company's design-forward Decorative Screen Panels (DSPs)* to be used as infills with select RDI® Collection aluminum and vinyl railing products.

A unique offering in the railing marketplace, the kits enable Barrette Outdoor Living to offer a customizable, code compliant, semi-private infill option for its RDI® Collection Finyl Line™ Vinyl Railing, RDI® Collection Avalon Aluminum Railing® and RDI® Collection Privacy Rail. Homeowners can also use DSPs under deck in place of traditional lattice or as an interior or exterior wall hanging for cohesive styling.

The new railing kits are yet one more addition to the company's expanding line of products that are compatible with its wide assortment of DSPs, which also can be used with select vinyl fencing, mixed material fencing, pergola and privacy screen kits.

"Integrating DSPs into our railing products is a great way to provide a high-end, customizable product that provides an easy way for homeowners to showcase their creative style — and to have an outdoor product that will be the envy of the neighborhood," says Patrick Bertke, Industrial Designer at Barrette Outdoor Living. "You can take it even one step further by alternating DSP infills with traditional railing panels for a truly distinctive look."
